MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Acting Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George L. Cary
Legislative Counsel

SUBJECT: Professionalism and Employee Morale

1. Action Requested: This is to recommend that inside experts provide substantive intelligence presentations on topical interests to employees in the bubble.

2. [] informed me that Jim Lilley gave the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence this morning a simply outstanding presentation on his recent trip to China and, the thought occurred to [] that a similar presentation by Jim to employees in the bubble would be not only informative but also serve the interests of boosting morale through professional pride. It would seem that a series of such talks on substantive intelligence areas by other talented individuals, such as Jim, could be provided to a broad spectrum of employees without intrusion into compartmented areas. This could be viewed as a supplement to the outside Guest Speaker program and the Intelligence Studies program. I think [] suggestion has merit and am forwarding it to you on the basis that a positive benefit to professionalism and morale could result.

NOTE FOR: Acting Deputy Director for Administration

FROM: John F. Blake
Acting Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

Mike:

1. I like both the report, the approach, and the recommendation.
May I suggest as follows.

2. Get together with Jim Taylor and have prepared and scheduled a presentation to EAG. That presentation should include some briefing boards to show the facts. Additionally, the papers should be distributed prior to the meeting in sufficient time to give people an opportunity to read and assimilate them.

3. I am dropping a copy of this memorandum to Jim Taylor and I leave it to you two to take over from here.

John F. Blake
